

SEO Consult Launch Two New SEO Tools

SEO Consult, a leading UK Search Engine Optimisation (SEO) Agency, has launched two new SEO tools. The 'Keyword Density Checker' and the 'What Google Sees' tools is free to use, and can be found at www.seoconsult.co.uk/seo-tools/.

Cheshire, United Kingdom, August 15, 2008 --(PR.com)-- Measured as a percentage, the 'Keyword Density Checker' scans any webpage and calculates the number of times a keyword or phrase appears compared to the total number of words. This allows users to see if keyword densities on their website are acceptable to search engines. For instance, a keyword density in excess of 2% on Google and 5% on Yahoo and MSN is considered spamming or keyword stuffing and is unlikely to achieve a high ranking in the search results.

The 'What Google Sees' tool reveals what content Google spiders/indexing bots capture when they crawl a website. The tool filters and strips down a webpage, showing the user exactly how it appears to Google. The user can then determine whether or not Google deems the page to be relevant to a specific keyword or search term.

Matt Bullas, Managing Director of SEO Consult, commented: "The Keyword Density Checker and What Google Sees is an example of the very latest Search Engine Optimisation tools. Here at SEO Consult, we utilise these and other high quality SEO tools to achieve first page rankings as quickly as possible for our clients."
