

Planet PhoneCards Launch New Website

Planet PhoneCards, one of the UK's leading online phone card retailers, has launched a new website.

Cheshire, United Kingdom, August 27, 2008 --(PR.com)-- Planet PhoneCards, one of the UK's leading online phone card retailers, has launched a new website. The new site went live on Friday, August 22nd, 2008, and can be viewed at www.planetphonecards.com.

The Planet PhoneCards website provides prepaid international phone cards that can be used to call over 1,100 destinations from both landlines and mobiles in 41 countries. The new website boasts an enhanced, self-updating call calculator system that has been designed to accommodate nearly 50,000 international calling rates. Depending on which of the 41 countries the user is calling from and which of the over 1,100 destinations the user is calling to, the system will rapidly and accurately filter its vast database to find the most appropriate phone card.

Matt Bullas, Managing Director of Planet PhoneCards, comments: "Our new call calculator system is an impressive piece of software that takes into account the specific place the user is calling to and from. No matter where in the world our customers need to call, we can offer a unique phone card with a discounted rate. With a lesser system in place, our customers would have to pay a one-size-fits-all rate, which is likely to be much more expensive."
