

Fishin Designs Now Available at JustGoFishin.com

Corpus Christi, TX, September 02, 2008 --(PR.com)-- JustGoFishin.com announces a new internet marketing option for businesses in the Texas Coastal Bend fishing community. Fishin' Designs, a new branch of the popular fishing site JustGoFishin.com, offers custom website design and hosting for fishing-related businesses that do not currently have an internet presence.

In a day when the internet is a primary source of consumer information, businesses without an online presence are often at a disadvantage in terms of reaching potential customers. However, many small business owners are put off by the time and expense of creating and maintaining a website. For these individuals, JustGoFishin.com may have what they are looking for. <http://designs.JustGoFishin.com> is the latest addition to JustGoFishin.com, an online information source and search engine for the Texas Gulf Coast. Dave Alexander, founder of JustGoFishin.com, sees Fishin' Designs as an important part of what Just Go Fishin' has to offer. "As our site has grown, this is a new feature we have developed to better serve our clients. Customers today expect a business to have a webpage that they can go to for information, so we worked with programmers to create an affordable option for building customized company websites for local businesses."

Fishin' Designs promises speed and satisfaction as well as affordability. "From the time a company subscribes and sends us their business information, we will have their website designed and online within three days. And, of course, we stand by our quality. If you don't like it, you don't pay," Alexander says. The introductory price of $299 includes a custom designed website, free hosting on JustGoFishin.com, and a one-year advertising subscription to JustGoFishin.com. Each company with a website from Fishin' Designs will also enjoy preferential placement in the JustGoFishin.com search engine, which will increase visibility to prospective customers

JustGoFishin.com is ranked by Alexa.com as one of the most heavily visited websites in the Texas Coastal Bend, and Fishin' Designs is one way businesses can take advantage of JustGoFishin.com's customer traffic. A system of banner links on other Fishin' Designs webpages will also increase the volume of visitors to each business's webpage. "We hope to make it easy for every guide, marina, bait shop, or other fishing-related company to enjoy the benefits of having a website, but without all the headache and expense," Alexander says, "and Fishin' Designs is committed to delivering just that."
