

TestEquity Earns Raytheon SAS Supplier Excellence Award

TestEquity LLC has been awarded the prestigious Raytheon Space and Airborne Systems Supplier Excellence Award for outstanding performance in providing test and measurement rental services.

Thousand Oaks, CA, September 03, 2008 --(PR.com)-- TestEquity LLC has been awarded the prestigious Raytheon Space and Airborne Systems Supplier Excellence Award. The award was for outstanding performance in providing Raytheon Space and Airborne Systems with test and measurement rental services.

This award is issued annually to those few companies in the Raytheon supply chain that have demonstrated exceptional performance. Recipients are selected for consistent quality of services, on-time delivery, dedication to safety and investment in process-improvement initiatives. With this supplier excellence award, Raytheon SAS has publicly acknowledged that TestEquity is best-in-class for test equipment rental services.

Raytheon Space and Airborne Systems (SAS), headquartered in El Segundo, California, is a leader in designing and developing advanced, integrated systems for crucial missions.

"We are honored to have received the Raytheon SAS Supplier Excellence Award. All of our valued employees at TestEquity worked together to improve our systems in order to earn this award. These improvements not only benefit Raytheon, they benefit all our customers." said Dan Copsey, President and CEO of TestEquity LLC.

TestEquity was awarded the Raytheon SAS rental agreement on June 8th, 2006. The agreement gives TestEquity LLC first right of refusal for all rental requests, making TestEquity their largest rental provider.
