

27 Facets Jewelry Concierge: Diamonds at Your Door, a New Jewelry Concierge Catering to Busy Individuals' Gifting Needs

27 Facets, a premier jewelry concierge, the first full-service personal jeweler that comes to you. From bespoke jewels to designer brands, they cater to a variety of clients' special occasion gifting needs that share a desire for convenience, quality and personalized attention. Let 27 Facets make gift giving hassle-free as your ultimate jewelry experts. They will remember all important dates in your life to ensure that busy schedules no longer lead to belated special occasion gifts.

New York, NY, September 05, 2008 --(PR.com)-- Why use a jewelry concierge?

With a growing list of responsibilities, our lives are busy and more stressful by the day, leaving little or no time to shop for important gifts. 27 Facets was created to take the stress out of shopping for the best product and price for a special occasion gift. Both Amber Berger and Jennifer Rosenthal, founders of 27 Facets, truly want the best for their clients and understand how to tailor the perfect gift for one's needs. The girls of 27 Facets hand pick and bring jewelry to their client to choose from, and upon selection, gift wrap and deliver for the utmost convenience. Based in New York, but with clients across the country, 27 Facets specializes in fine jewelry and watches. The company's primary goal is to make their client's jewelry gifting an exciting and effortless experience. Welcome to the world of ultimate luxury: diamonds at your door.

Expertise you can count on

Quality. Style. Value. These three words define the company's mantra. Two jewelry mavens, Amber Berger and Jennifer Rosenthal, have changed the meaning of shopping. Amber's background as a luxury goods buyer and Jennifer's gemological and appraisal experience position 27 Facets as the new personalized jewelry experts. Their broad-reaching network of contacts has enabled them to unlock the door and gain access to designers and suppliers not available to the average consumer. Nothing is impossible because dreams can always be made.

27 Facets....lucky you

The company's name 27 Facets is as unique as their clients' needs. Not wanting to be ordinary, hence 27 Facets instead of the standard 57 or 58 facets in a round diamond, the firm likes to think outside the box in order to cater to every one of their clients' requests. 27 is a lucky number for both partners and the age when Jennifer and Amber launched their business idea. Both left their prestigious jobs in order to follow their dream of working with jewelry and to make people happy. Jennifer is the diamond expert and Amber is the trend specialist and together they provide the perfect team to bring your inspiration to life.

About Us

Amber Berger was destined to pursue a career in luxury goods, as her family has built a revered fine jewelry manufacturing business over the last 65 years. As a child, much of her free time was devoted to creating new lines for the family operation. Upon completing her undergraduate studies, she began working as an assistant buyer for the fine jewelry and watch department at Michael C. Fina. Later, she became a buyer for luxury brands such as Gucci and Cartier, as well as Henri Bendel's accessories. With such a diverse background in luxury goods, Amber, along with her 27 Facets partner, Jennifer Rosenthal, is a natural at-your-service jewelry concierge.

Jennifer Rosenthal has always been enthralled by jewelry. As a child trampling over shoe boxes in her mother's closet to play with hidden gems, she discovered her love for the finer things in life. Desiring to pursue her passion, she started working for the fine jewelry designer, Leslie Greene. Soon after, she decided to continue her education in jewelry and received her Gemologist degree and an Accredited Jewelry Professional Degree from the Gemological Institute of America. Afterwards, she joined Doyle New York as a jewelry appraiser and received her certification under USPAP from the Appraisers Association of America. With Jennifer's enthusiasm and proficiency, she brings jewelry to life.
