

HuntOnly.com Announces New Hunting Widgets and Kinetic Energy Calculator Features

HuntOnly.com has developed 2 New Widgets for use on your website, myspace, camospace, or any other networking site. If you enjoy seeing monster bucks caught on trail camera's you need to check these out. These are great tools with valuable features, your friends and visitors are sure to enjoy. HuntOnly.com has also developed a Kinetic Energy Calculator. This can be used to quickly and accurately calculate the kinetic energy of your archery or firearm equipment.

Waldorf, MD, September 22, 2008 --(PR.com)-- HuntOnly.com is working with developers to bring you some new features that you and your friends are sure to enjoy. Widgets are a great way to keep new content and pictures on your website and myspace page. HuntOnly.com has developed 2 new widgets for use on your website and myspace pages.

The first one provides new Hunting Articles, Field Journals, Hunting Gear Reviews, and more in real-time. As new articles are posted on HuntOnly.com, the widget updates and shows links and excerpts from the new articles. This is a great way to add content and substance to your website, myspace or any other networking site.

The second widget is linked directly into HuntOnly.com's Trail Camera Gallery. Members of Huntonly.com upload their latest trail camera photos almost daily and these pictures are displayed in the widget on your site or page. It's updated in real-time as new photos are uploaded, so there are always new Trail Camera photos of big bucks to see.

Get both of these Widgets at www.huntonly.com/huntonly_widgets.php

HuntOnly.com's developers have also setup a Kinetic Energy Calculator for your use. Everyone is curious how much kinetic energy your archery or firearm equipment is producing, but the calculations are a little complex at best. No more, HuntOnly.com now has an easy way to get this information. You plug in the weight of your arrow or bullet, and speed in FPS and with one click you have your kinetic energy.
