Mustafa has written this about a life of a friend who has come to the UK with high hopes and learns that the way to get through life is not easy. Its a short piece of work but truly makes you stop and ponder, about the fact that in life, experiences do mean a lot.

The story is based on the life experiences on the author's friend, which makes the story even more interesting.

The Novel is straight to the point, its more than just a story. It has reality of true happenings in a student's life in a new environment in London, but this can be applicable for any student moving to a new place in a new environment, mainly emphasized on Indian Students and Indian Family.

The location in the story is based in India and London

The time is split from childhood of the student till when he comes to UK and goes back home, its a bumpy ride.

The main reason the Novel was written was that often many students come to universities from ovrseas and undergo a same sense of feeling.
