

Cellhut Announces New Commercial and Discounts for the Fall Season

One of the internet's leading sellers of unlocked cell phones is having a sale on many unlocked cell phones.

New York, NY, October 01, 2008 --(PR.com)-- This Fall Season Cellhut is presenting many great events including discounts on the latest unlocked phones. In addition to the new televised commercial that Cellhut has recently aired on Dish TV, which has drawn in hundreds of viewers, Cellhut is slashing prices on unlocked cell phones and accessories from the biggest manufacturers such as Nokia, Samsung, and LG.

Cellhut has been an e-commerce business selling unlocked cell phones and accessories since 1996. The company is known for their particular brand of trustworthy service and genuine product. Cellhut is committed to shipping out orders as quickly as possible and has employed various fraud-prevention techniques to ensure that each order receives special attention.

The 30-second television commercial has gotten Cellhut a lot of attention. This video is just step one of Cellhut's plan to incorporate a full-fledged multimedia campaign to raise awareness about Cellhut and unlocked cell phones.

Cellhut's discounted phones are the reason that people are drawn to the website. No other company offers as many current phones at such great prices.

The Motorola L9 is available for $142.99. This is a candybar phone that infuses the best qualities of its more advanced related models. A powerful zoom for the camera and attractive design give this phone an edge over the competition.

The Nokia E65 is available for $299.99. This slider phone is a perfect example of Nokia's superior styling and inclusion of next-gen technology. Some of the great features include Microsoft Office applications, build-in memory and a MicroSD slot, WLAN, and the ability to make calls hands-free make this phone the ultimate choice for the business minded individual.

The Motorola L2 is available for $64.99. This easy-to-use, easy-to-love phones brings to mind the humble origins of the earliest phones. There is nothing included here that will confuse the user, the interface is clearly laid out and making calls is a snap. This doesn't mean that there aren't some great features here, however, and the Bluetooth technology, E-mail support, and excellent battery life are all testaments of this fact.
