

Boo! Bubbalou's BBQ is a Treat for Halloween Parties.

Find out how can treat your Halloween party guests instead of playing tricks on them by serving delicious barbecue from Bubbalou's Catering.

Orlando, FL, October 08, 2008 --(PR.com)-- Hosting a Halloween party or event? Or maybe you just want to take a night off from cooking to enjoy the “spooktacular” festivities with your family. Either way, Bubbalou's BBQ Catering has the solution. Featuring nothing but treats, Bubbalou's BBQ provides a full-course meal featuring barbeque meats and delectable side items.

This year Halloween falls on a weekday and after a long day at work, the last thing most people want to do is go home and prepare a meal. Bubbalou's Catering solves that problem by providing barbecue catering services or Party Packs that can be conveniently picked up. An award-winning barbeque restaurant, Bubbalou's cooks it all - from the main dish and side items to dessert.

“You should be out having fun trick or treating, or entertaining your guests - not sweating over a hot stove. Bubbalou's Catering will decorate in the theme of your choice, provide the food and serve it to your guests,” said Bucky Weston, owner of Bubbalou's in Altamonte Springs, Florida.

Another reason why Bubbalou's barbeque is a great choice for your Halloween meal is that it's unique. While some may entertain with common catered foods that people have come to expect, Bubbalou's BBQ offers something different and pleasing to the palette.

“All of our BBQ favorites can be found on our catering menu and in our party packs. Customers can select their options to customize a unique menu for their party from choices such as barbecue chicken and pork, cole slaw, baked beans, corn muffins collard greens, peach cobbler with vanilla ice cream and more,” said Weston.

While your Halloween party may be full of “tricks”, make sure the food is a “treat by enlisting the help of Bubbalou's Catering.
