

PortableHotTubsNow.com has Recently Launched a New Site and a New Talent Kyle Weiner

Kyle just recently designed Portablehottubsnow.com. He is a young and very talented designer. He is also a musician. He plays the drums and hopes one day to work on movie theme songs. The site he designed is for people who enjoy relaxing in hot tubs.

North Tonawanda, NY, November 03, 2006 --(PR.com)-- Portablehottubsnow.com has recently been launched. Bonnie Feltz had dreamed of having a business for over ten years. Bonnie said "I tried to find a business that would be interesting and fun. I finally looked to the internet. I went to many companies to design a site and was always disappointed in the outcome. Then I met a fresh new talent Kyle Weiner. I am excited to have him working on this new venture with me."

Kyle is a music major from Berklee in Boston. He designed Portablehottubsnow.com not from a pat program but through his own imagination. His design is simple but attractive and compliments the hot tubs. It is a wave design that he uses on all of the pages of the website. The most impressive item on the Portablehottubsnow.com website is a small movie on the easy setup of one of the hot tubs. He has made this movie by using static pictures. They show a women as she puts all the parts of the portable hot tub together. You can not tell that it was made from separate pictures. Kyle has taken great care in the page layout. He has done several other websites including his own. Kyle has chosen to add music to his own website.

To hear and see his personal website visit it at <http://www.Kyleweiner.com>. Come and see Kyle's work at portablehottubsnow.com and take a look at the hot tubs. They are great to take camping or setup at a party. They are small enough to setup in places where regular hot tubs can't fit. They may be smaller than a regular hot tub but they seat four people. At least take a look and leave an email about what you think.
