

Nu-Jazz artist David Floodstrand Scores with "Good Day Soleil"

Winter Park, FL, January 15, 2007 --(PR.com)-- Criterion International recording artist David Floodstrand has the number one slot on the Nu-Jazz Charts at Soundclick.com today with his self penned song "Good Day Soleil." "Nu-Jazz is a genre that I like play with because it gives me the freedom to pull together various elements from Electronica, Funk, and Jazz, and blend them in a new style," said David.

David Floodstrand is a 20 year veteran club DJ from Chicago who has worked with such diverse artists as Al Jourgensen of Ministry, to Jazz Trumpet virtuoso, and clinician Rex Richardson Phd.

Criterion International is an independent record label that is part of a growing number of labels, and artists that use a combination of "friends" related sites like MySpace, artist driven websites like Soundclick.com, and CNet, with street level promotion, and live shows as a part of their overall promotion and marketing strategy.
