

Early Booking Incentive on Exotic Journeys' trips

Saving hundreds of dollars on trips to India, Nepal, Bhutan, Tibet, Sri Lanka, Myanmar, Korea, Tiger Tops and Palace on Wheels

Chicago, IL, March 16, 2007 --(PR.com)-- India has emerged as one of the most popular tourism and commercial destination in the world. The side effect is that most of the luxury and deluxe hotels and flights in India get booked up months in advance by the business travelers who do business in India or who want to do business in India.

To encourage leisure travelers to book early, the Chicago based tour operator, Exotic Journeys, is offering 'early booking incentive' on selected group tours. The incentive offered is $200.00 per person if a tour is booked over 180 days and $150.00 per person if booked between 179 and 90 days prior to departure date.

If you are planning to tour India and other destinations Exotic Journeys serves, this may be the time to book and save.

Exotic Journeys offer 8 group tours with weekly departures to India, Nepal, Tibet, Bhutan, Sri Lanka and neighboring countries and dozens of private and personal pre-designed trips.
