

Satori Group, Inc. and Deltek, Inc. Announce Relationship to Provide Integrated Best of Class Reporting, Analytics, and Profitability Management for Project Focused Firms

Conshohocken, PA, May 15, 2007 --(PR.com)-- Satori Group Inc., a premier provider of enterprise class business intelligence and business performance management applications to law firms, professional services, and consumer products companies and Deltek, the leading provider of enterprise management software for project-focused organizations announced today their relationship. Together, they will deliver best of breed comprehensive solutions to Architectural & Engineering, Construction Management, and the Professional Services industries to meet the need for critical multi-system reporting, profitability trend analysis, forecasting, and project financial planning.

Deltek Vision® provides project driven firms with the ability to streamline key business functions. The relationship with Satori and the seamless integration of Deltek Vision with Satori i-Performance business intelligence suite for project focused organizations provides enhanced capabilities and greater insight into firm operations, projects, and profitability for Deltek Vision clients regardless of firm size.

“Flexible reporting, analysis, and trending across systems, data sources, and projects provides project driven firms with the ability to be agile, have business foresight, and operate as profitable, demand driven organizations,” said David Libesman, President of Satori Group, Inc. “The i-Performance integration with Vision and other key firm data sources such as CRM and human resources, will provide the ability to spot trends, report, and analyze operational and performance indicators at a greater level of detail providing better decision capabilities and understanding of the firm as a whole. We are pleased and excited by the relationship with Deltek.”

To kick off the new partnership and integrated product offering, Satori will be exhibiting onsite at the ACEC 2007 Annual Convention May 6-9 in Washington, DC and at the Deltek Insight 2007 Annual Users Conference May 15-18 in Las Vegas, NV, booth #26. “We are really looking forward to personally meeting and speaking with the attendees of these key events,” stated Karen Cauley, VP of Sales and Marketing for Satori Group, Inc. “Our clients and their success are always our focus and we will be on site at these two shows to deliver that message.”
