

Villasenor Productions Releases The Best Damn Commercial Real Estate Investing Book Ever Written

Las Vegas, NV, May 24, 2007 --(PR.com)-- Villasenor Productions, a multimedia company, has released The Best Damn Commercial Real Estate Investing Book Ever Written! by Monica Villasenor. Monica decided to bring the book forward because of the blatant need for this information. "I thought investing in commercial real estate would be the same as investing in residential real estate, but it's a whole different ball game. This is the book I wish I would have had when I first started," Monica adds.

Distributed by Ingram Books, Villasenor Productions has teamed up with RevShare to promote The Best Damn Commercial Real Estate Investing Book Ever Written! nationally through a short form infomercial beginning May 28, 2007. "We also have the benefit of having the book featured as part our new reality program, 'The Making of a Millionaire' which will launch in the Fall on the ITVI network," states managing member, Michael Villasenor. The book is currently available through Amazon, and through many online websites as an ebook, however any bookstore can order a copy of The Best Damn Commercial Real Estate Investing Book Ever Written! upon request.

Monica Villasenor's goal is to get the book out to as many people as possible. "Most people think that investing in commercial real estate is beyond their means. That actually is not an accurate statement. It's actually easier than purchasing residential real estate. I want that perception destroyed," Monica emphasized. Those people who are interested in ordering a copy of the book can visit the author's website at www.monicavillasenor.net.
