

Left Handed Products Retailer, LongIslandLefty.com, Announces Re-launch of its Lefties Product Website for Christmas

LongIslandLefty.com originally launched in November 2001 and quickly became the Internet's most popular and profitable online retailer on products made for lefties. LongIslandLefty.com finally re-launches it's online southpaw store in time for shopping for that special lefty in your life.

New York, NY, December 02, 2005 --(PR.com)-- LongIslandLefty.com originally opened its doors in November of 2001 as a brother and sister owned company who wanted to fill a gap in the marketplace for their fellow lefties worldwide. The company quickly took off, selling left-handed school and office supplies, kitchenware, gift items, hobby items and informational books on lefties.

LongIslandLefty.com appeared on Nickelodeon's "Nick News," In Entrepreneur Magazine, The Nationally Syndicated Radio Program: "Start-up Nation" and on local news programs all over the country. The company received thank you letters from left-handed children and their parents thanking LongIslandLefty.com for helping their children to be more comfortable in class.

LongIslandLefty.com took a year long hiatus in 2004/2005 to re-structure and to find the latest and best products available on the market. After a lot of hard work, the website has re-launched just in time for the holidays. Over 130 left-handed products are available at the website, everything from: lefty spiral notebooks, left-handed can openers, ceramic mugs, lefty scissors, clothing, novelty items and more!
