

Nation's Only Pet Friendly Landscape Company

Denver, CO, July 20, 2007 --(PR.com)-- Pawfriendly Landscapes, Inc. is the nation's only pet friendly landscape company. They are located in Colorado and have helped others nationwide with their pet friendly landscapes. They use organic material to deter dogs from digging, climbing fences, eating plants and sprinklers, destroying sod due to urine or heavy foot traffic, eating rocks, bathroom areas, eating wood mulch, creating dog areas and running paths. They listen to the dog and let him design his backyard - They work with their habits.

Pawfriendly Landscapes, Inc. was established in 1998 in Colorado. They are the nation's only pet friendly landscape company that deters dogs from digging, chewing plants, eating irrigation, killing grass with heavy foot traffic or urine, dogs who eat rock or wood mulch, jumping fences and creating beautiful dog areas. They do not use shock collars, only organic materials, nor do they use new training methods.

They listen to the dog and create beautiful landscapes based on his habits. They respect the client and their dog(s) and create an enjoyable landscape for the entire family.
