It's a singer thing - vocal training CD. "It's a singer thing" – is an exciting vocal training CD that both beginner and professional vocalists can use daily to become the best singers they have ever been. The secret of top performing singers. A training volume in CD format. Exclusively produced by Kyle' Music.

Centurion, South Africa, July 27, 2007 --(PR.com)-- "It's a singer thing" - is an exciting vocal training CD that both beginner and professional vocalists can use daily to become the best singers they have ever been.

The CD was developed, compiled and produced by Kylé Adcock, founder member of top vocal training school Kylé Music, based in Johannesburg, South Africa. Kylé has been a vocal coach for over 20 years, and has compressed "tried and tested" techniques into 1 CD. The 68 minute CD covers breathing exercises, scales and pitching exercises. Kylé explains all the exercises herself to ensure that they are executed properly. She also gives valuable "vocal tips" throughout the training. The absolute beauty of this product is that it covers the foundations of singing that applies to all singers, be they beginners or professional performing artists. The objective of the CD is to develop your voice to bring out its best, from the comfort of your own home.

Another benefit of this product, is that it was developed by a South African trainer which understands the diversities of the South African music market, a market that ranges from Afrikaans to Kwaito music. Research done by Kylé, found that most of the overseas training products focus on elements which apply mostly to the European or American music market, and not to the South African music market.

"It's a singer thing" is truly a valuable investment for any singer or vocal trainer. No matter where you are at in your singing career, working through "It's a singer thing" will take your voice to the next level so you can sing with confidence under the spotlight.

Buy "It's a singer thing today" so you can become the singer you have always wanted to be.
