

PrintsMadeEasy.com Adds 5,000 More Design Templates for Business Cards and Postcards

Business cards printing leader creates new online library of templates to help individuals and organizations design and print high-quality, affordable business cards and postcards.

Los Angeles, CA, July 30, 2007 --(PR.com)-- PrintsMadeEasy.com, the worldwide leader in online printing solutions, today released an additional 5,000 design templates for customers in need of business cards, doubling its library of templates to over 10,000 unique options. Building on the company's success in offering the most innovative design and ordering experience online, these new features help individuals and businesses save time and money by ensuring their business card design can serve their immediate and long-term needs.

PrintsMadeEasy's design software offers an easy, convenient experience for business professionals to design and print free high-quality business cards at affordable prices. Customers can design their business cards in real-time and store their artwork securely on PrintsMadeEasy's server for future use.

"We're willing to do whatever it takes to provide our customers with a wealth of ideas before designing a business card that is right for them," PrintsMadeEasy.com CEO Brian Whiteman said. "The Internet is all about creating options. We're doing just that for our customers by providing them with the most comprehensive library of design templates for their needs."

PrintsMadeEasy's design platform offers individuals and businesses the flexibility to customize their own designs in real time, receive instant feedback from customer service on their proofs, save their designs online for re-ordering, and guarantee exact arrival dates (with 99.9% accuracy) using PME's Countdown Timer.

"We know how important it is for business professionals to receive high-quality business cards that are easy to order online," Whiteman said. "With the limited time they have to focus on business card orders, our customers want a hassle-free experience. And that's exactly what we've created, so that they can turn their attention to what matters most to them and us - running their business successfully."

PME's customer service team has been commended on a national level for having some of the fastest response times and the most accommodating service representatives around.

"The customer experience remains our top priority," Whiteman said. "Whether you're tech-savvy or a novice or somewhere in between, our customer service team is passionate about helping you deliver the perfect personalized message."

PrintsMadeEasy.com features the latest technologies in digital manufacturing, along with premium quality supplies. The company has a committed team of graphic artists that inspects every order. If the graphic artists find any obvious problems, they may fix them immediately or contact the customer for prompt clarification. A quality assurance team takes pride in every order that ships out the doors.
