

The Daily Buzz TV Show Features Dream Wedding Locations

With destination weddings becoming so popular The Daily Buzz, a National Hip TV/News Talk Show asked Diane Bronstein of www.dreamweddinglocations.com about this trend and why it is so popular.

Palm Springs, CA, December 16, 2005 --(PR.com)-- Diane Bronstein of www.DreamWeddingLocations.com is an expert on destination weddings, so when The Daily Buzz TV Talk and News Show wanted to find out more about this trend they called her in to speak about it.

According to Diane there are many reasons but here are the main ones. "A wedding is a major event in a couple's life and they want to spend it with the people who care deeply for them. By having a destination wedding you surround yourself with all those who are important to you for not only a few hours, but a weekend or a week. Your friends and family truly become an important part of your wedding. The bond and the memories of this special occasion last forever, where a quick four hour party is soon forgotten."

Another factor is there are so many beautiful and special locations around the world, why not have the most memorable event in your life made truly special by having it at one of these magical places. You could go to a Castle in Scotland, on a tall ship in Maine, ride in on a horse at a Gentleman's ranch in Georgia, go to a private beach in New Zealand, or rent a private estate for you and your family to celebrate your wedding day.

The final factor is cost; it is generally less expensive to have your wedding at one of the lovely destination wedding locations then at a local venue in your town. The reason being is that the amount of people who will attend will be less. In other words the people who really matter to you. The Aunt that no one talks to, or the neighbor you haven't seen since you were two will not be attending and will not be offended.

If you are planning a wedding look into this wonderful option at www.dreamweddinglocations.com . DreamWeddingLocations.com will even find you a wedding planner wherever you decide to marry.

###

Contact Information:

DreamWeddingLocations.com

Diane Bronstein

760 449-1822

diane@dreamweddinglocations.com

www.dreamweddinglocations.com

Online Version of Press Release:

You can read the online version of this press release at: <http://www.pr.com/press-release/4893>

News Image:

