

Real Foreclosure Reports Provides Detailed Investment Property Reports

Real Foreclosure Reports (www.realforeclosurereports.com) has launched its online foreclosure reporting services. By providing comprehensive data on pre-foreclosures, foreclosure sales, and REO's, Real Foreclosure Reports (www.realforeclosurereports.com) gives real estate investors the information they need to make wise investment decisions.

Charlotte, NC, September 08, 2007 --(PR.com)-- Real Foreclosure Reports (www.realforeclosurereports.com), a foreclosure reporting service, seeks to provide real estate investors with powerful data to make wise investment decisions.

Real Foreclosure Reports was founded by Michael Park, a North Carolina real estate attorney. The idea came after several of his clients requested foreclosure listing data. Michael began to research available services and found them lacking in accuracy and detail.

Real Foreclosure Reports President, Michael Park says, "When investing in real estate, information is what makes the difference between making huge profits or not. We provide detailed information about properties which are facing foreclosure, being sold through foreclosure, and bank-owned properties. Without accurate, detailed information, real estate investors can waste a lot of time working on deals that will die due to unforeseen liens or judgments."

Real Foreclosure Reports sends reports to subscribers on a weekly basis. Here's what you get when you subscribe:

Weekly Reports Emailed to you on the following property types:

- Pre-Foreclosures
- Properties Scheduled for Foreclosure Sale
- REO Properties

With each property report, you get the following information:

- Complete Property Details (owner, address, square footage, any available owner contact information, and much more)
- Complete Lien Report (unpaid taxes, mortgages, or judgments)
- Area Comparable Analysis

Currently, Real Foreclosure Reports provides reports in Mecklenburg County, North Carolina, but plans on expanding the service nationwide over the next 18 months.
