Orlando, FL, November 20, 2007 --(PR.com)-- OnlineLabels.com, the leader in blank labels for laser and inkjet printers has recently launched two new sections on the website, just in time for the holidays.

New and existing customers will now find predesigned templates for both specific holidays and special occasions, such as Thanksgiving, Christmas, St. Patrick's Day and many more. The "Label Style Center," located on the Company's homepage, offers templates which can be used with a variety of OnlineLabels.com's existing label sizes. The predesigned templates are Microsoft Word documents that provide set layouts with professional designs.

Another brand new feature of OnlineLabels.com, is the "Specialty Label Shapes" section. Within this area, customers will be able to find specialized shapes such as directional arrow labels, awareness ribbon labels, quote bubble stickers, heart-shaped labels and other popular label sizes. These specialty label shapes are ideal for scrapbooking, spicing up holiday mailings, creating decorations or labeling gifts.

"Each of our new sections, the Labels Style Center and Specialty Label Shapes are further examples of how we're staying ahead in the industry," said Dave Carmany of OnlineLabels.com.
