

Just in Time for the Holidays: a Safe Toy That is Made in the USA, is 100% Recyclable and Comes with a Lifetime Guarantee. Say Hello to Toobee® the Amazing Flying Can

Finally an American toy company that offers a toy for life guarantee, contributes most of its earnings to children's charities and is an environmentally friendly 100% recyclable toy (green toy)

Sussex, WI, November 20, 2007 --(PR.com)-- Need a holiday gift for that person in your life who has everything? Tired of the same old gift ideas?

Check out Toobee The Amazing Flying Can. What's it like?

It was designed by two aeronautical engineers. In scientific terms the Toobee is an annular airfoil or cylindrical wing.

Toobee can be tossed for distance, accuracy, fun, or competition. Just grip it and throw Toobee with a spin like a football. Watch as it sails, soars, swoops, and curves. The world distance record is 283 feet -- not bad for something that weighs less than a marshmallow.

In June of 2007, Toobee was used as part of the Keynote address for eBay Live held in Boston. The event was a huge success.

The toy is designed for ages 6 to 106 and can be played alone, with the family, or with a group of friends. It has no sharp edges and is safe indoors or out. Like the Frisbee® the Toobee® takes a little practice to get the hang of it, but once you do, this tiny airborne toy is highly addictive.

Greg Stromberg, President of Toobee International said about Toobee, "It's a toy that turns heads and creates good, clean fun wherever it goes. It brings people together, and is the perfect cure for sedentary lifestyles."

"Ultimately, I want Toobee to be able to make a difference in society. To bring about positive change," Stromberg added. In keeping with that goal, 20% of all profits go to select children's charities worldwide.

At present time, Toobee is available via the Internet, and mail order. A 2-pack with protective storage/carry case is just $14.95.

In contrast to many toys on the market today, Toobee is made in the USA. It is 100% recyclable making it a "green toy," and comes with a lifetime guarantee.

So check it out. Toobee might just be that unique gift for which you've been searching.
