Long Beach, CA, November 22, 2007 --(PR.com)-- UThinkIt Graphics is proud to announce their receipt of a 2007 Silver Davey Award. Small graphic design firms, ad agencies and public relation firms worldwide submitted over 4,000 entries in hopes of securing the coveted Davey. The Davey is granted to small firms demonstrating high levels of creativity and excellence in their work. UThinkIt was among the handful of recipients honored. The Daveys are judged and overseen by The International Academy of Visual Arts, which includes firms such as Yahoo, Coach, BrandWeek, Victoria's Secret, The Ellen DeGeneres Show, Wired, Estée Lauder and many others.

“We are really honored to be recognized by our industry for a Silver Davey Award. It means a lot when a small firm can compete creatively on a level playing ground with the best firms and agencies worldwide. Our clients know that we are continually growing and changing, so our new work will be even better than the work that won the award,” says Kathy King, CEO of UThinkIt Graphics.

The UThinkIt Graphics team has created fresh and effective designs for companies such as the World Famous Hell's Kitchen Restaurant, as well as Punishment Athletics Enterprises, Inc, which is owned by former, UFC Fighting Champion, Tito Ortiz. “We work with large companies who are open to creating a strong brand that will stay in the minds of their buyers,” remarked Justin King, Art Director for UThinkIt Graphics. “Receiving the Silver Davey Award lets us know that we're on the right track.”
