

Trendy Gift Line Announces Holiday Therapy

Aromatherapy Interventions, the breakthrough candle line, has just released two new “therapies” for the holiday season: All Nighter™, for those who can’t quit and don’t want to, and Extro-Version™, a mood for those who like people almost more than anything.

Newport Beach, CA, December 17, 2007 --(PR.com)-- All Nighter™, a midnight blue soy-blend candle featuring essences of woody florals and varietal citrus, has just been released by Aromatherapy Interventions™, a Newport Beach, CA based company.

According to John McKee, Aromatherapy Interventions' CEO, “All Nighter is a mood for those who can't quit and don't want to. The upbeat scent stimulates and energizes the spirit.”

All Nighter is just one of two new releases this week by the breakthrough candle line. The second is Extro-Version™, a mood for those who like people almost more than anything. Extro-Version is a “super party candle,” says McKee, “Fresh lemongrass and vibrant florals promote a spontaneous and radiating spirit.”

Other introductions previously rolled out for 2008 include Version 2.0, and Rebound. “Each is inspired by true aromacology, the science of scent,” adds McKee, “all our claims spring from various published studies on the effect of scent on mood.”

The complete product line can be viewed at: www.aromatherapyinterventions.com

The Aromatherapy Interventions web site also provides wholesale order information to the trade, description and content of each candle, and a display of the merchandising program.

Aromatherapy Interventions™ is a California based company producing hand-poured aromatherapy candles: all scents, glass, cotton wicks, soy wax, packaging and printing are solely derived in the USA.
