

New Children's Picture Book, Creation's Praise, Provides Inspirational Thirty-One Day Devotional for Children

Creation's Praise, a bright and colorful thirty-one day devotional for young children. Written in poetical form and filled with animals and all creation praising and thanking God. Also included are daily opportunities for adults and children to spend time together praising and thanking God for His tender love and care. Designed, so adults can lovingly introduce their little ones to the great universal symphony of praise to God.

Deerfield Beach, FL, January 05, 2008 --(PR.com)-- God loves us! He cares, provides for and protects all His beloved creation. Young children can understand these Biblical concepts, they just need to be exposed to them. This is why author Vivian May Edwards offers Creation's Praise, a new children's picture book slated to hit the market in 2008.

God's creation continuously offers up praise and worship to God. Creation's Praise reminds us that we should follow this example. With the help of this interactive tool, adults can now introduce their child to this great universal symphony of praise. This sterling thirty-one day devotional for young children, offers the perfect opportunity for them to discover just how blessed and loved they are by God. Child and adult can praise God; memorize Bible verses and feel triumphant joy and gratitude as together they experience God's unending love for them.

Show your child how God tenderly and eternally loves them as well as all His creation in this heartwarming and inspirational picture book of praise and worship. Order your copy today at www.xlibris.com
