Quote: "What more can you offer me dammit, what have you heard him say so far?" Morgan screamed into the phone.

"He keeps repeating the same thing sir," the agent said.

"And what might that be?"

"We've had enough time," the agent replied. "That's it sir, except for when he says he loves them Starbucks lattes after every sip."

"We've had enough time?" Morgan pondered.

"Oh yes sir, there was one more thing," the agent added. "We heard him say Apple computers were so awesome even he could figure out how to use one."

"We've had enough time?" Morgan grumbled as he headed to the surveillance van the agents were reporting from. "Had enough time for what?"
