

Brand of the Free Debuts American Made, Eco-Friendly T shirts

American Made Apparel Company Launches New Online Store: 'Brand of the Free' Rolls Out Made in America Organic Apparel and Accessories

Manassas, VA, February 13, 2008 --(PR.com)-- 'Brand of the Free' Apparel proves that American Made never felt so good and proudly launches it's superior quality, eco-friendly line of graphic tshirts and accessories at www.brandofthefree.net.

The Brand of the Free online store gives customers easy access in a straight forward format to allow easy ordering. Answering a growing demand for American made products, Brand of the Free has developed a line of Certified American Made men's and women's T's that range from standard cotton to 100% Certified Organic Cotton styles. By offering both traditional and organic cotton styles, the company can satisfy a large consumer base demanding high quality American made apparel. Users may also browse through a large selection of upcoming releases and assorted fashion tote bags. Children and infant sizes will be added in the coming months.

Brand of the Free is committed to being socially responsible and uses only American grown cotton and organic cotton for their Ts. They also feature low impact dyes and are accentuated with compelling graphics and printed with water based, low impact ink to help preserve the planet. All tshirts are manufactured in America with the highest standards in a sweat shop free, fair wage environment.
