

ForestWander Nature Photography Featured in Mountain Highlands Traveler Magazine

ForestWander.com West Virginia's Nature photography website, has been featured in a magazine publication honoring the Monongahela National Forest and the attractions throughout the forest. Beautiful Glady Creek in Babcock State Park West Virginia is the featured Nature Photo which was used in the magazine.

Elkins, WV, February 19, 2008 --(PR.com)-- ForestWander.com was formed in 2004 by a father and son hiking and photography team who then began posting their photography work on their website. Since 2004 ForestWander has grown to receive over 50,000 unique visitors each month who view and download the free nature photography pictures offered on ForestWander.com.

ForestWander has also published several video's on you tube and other popular video sharing sites that express the wonderful beauty of nature and the tranquility that West Virginia has to offer residents and tourists.

<http://www.youtube.com/user/forestwander>

For More information or for free nature pictures visit

<http://www.ForestWander.com>

###

Contact Information:

ForestWander.com

Troy Lilly

304-776-2477

forestwanderer@gmail.com

<http://www.ForestWander.com>

Online Version of Press Release:

You can read the online version of this press release at: <http://www.pr.com/press-release/72825>

News Image:

