

Independent Tests Show New SensiClear Acne Treatment Beats Leading Acne Product Using Benzoyl Peroxide

SensiClear Acne Treatment System works faster and is over 100% more effective than the leading acne product in eliminating blackheads and 50% more effective in reducing acne blemishes during the first three critical days of acne care.

Menlo Park, CA, March 14, 2008 --(PR.com)-- Mission Scientific announces that independent tests reveal that the company's new SensiClear Acne Treatment System works faster and is over 100% more effective than the leading acne product in eliminating blackheads.

The tests conducted by AMA Laboratories, Inc. show that SensiClear worked faster and was 50% more effective than the leading acne treatment in reducing acne blemishes during the first three critical days of acne care. After 28 days, SensiClear reduced acne breakouts by nearly 60% and was more effective than the leading acne product.

“We were very pleased with the results of this test,” said Charles Benard, Chief Marketing Officer for Mission Scientific. “But the real satisfaction is in seeing your product make life changing improvements in the lives of those who have been struggling with acne.”

“Retextra is a patented molecule that when combined with salicylic acid eliminates excess oil, unclogs pores and helps promote cell renewal to create a clear and smooth complexion,” said Benard. Unlike systems that use benzoyl peroxide, an ingredient that can be very drying, the SensiClear Acne Treatment System prevents blemishes gently and effectively without irritating sensitive skin. SensiClear system is the only acne treatment system with Retextra.”
