

Animal Lovers Finally Have Their Own Online Dating Site

Starting April 1, 2008, www.therightbreed.com will be actively on the air. Geared towards single pet owners and animal lovers, the online dating website offers instant messaging with webcam, a graphic intense unique chat room, emails, flirts, searches by region, age, animals and breeds, blogs, forums and an online magazine on pets and dating. Sign up now... it's free and The Right Breed is also offering the potential to win one year's worth of pet food. A site like this is long overdue.

Miami, FL, March 30, 2008 --(PR.com)-- Starting April 1, 2008, the long awaited www.therightbreed.com will be actively on the air. Geared towards single pet owners and animal lovers, the online dating website offers instant messaging with webcam, graphic intense unique chat rooms, e mails, flirts, searches by region, age, animals and breeds, blogs, forums and an online magazine on pets and dating. Sign up now... it's free and The Right Breed is also offering the potential to win one year's worth of pet food. A site like this is long overdue.

One interesting fact about The Right Breed is in their Mission Statement found in the "About Us" section. Founder Cindy Novak is looking to give back by starting up an adoption service where those less fortunate (aka seriously ill children, veterans, the elderly and the disabled) will have the opportunity to adopt pets. By assisting with the costs of immunizations and the first year's worth of food, both affection starved animals and those in need of some loyal companionship will benefit.

In addition, the first 60 days have complete and open usage of all the site's features. After that, the cost is only 14.99/month of which a portion will go to sponsor the adoption program. Plans for a VIP membership offering additional features such as mobile technology and unlimited virtual gifts will be offered in the coming months for a few dollars more. Money well spent.
