

Easter Deals at Cellhut.com Promise Discounted Prices on Unlocked Cell Phones

This Easter holiday Cellhut.com is offering special prices on its most popular unlocked cell phones.

New York, NY, March 21, 2008 --(PR.com)-- This Easter holiday, customers who shop at Cellhut.com won't have to look very far to find amazing deals on unlocked cell phones. Cellhut.com maintains a strict business model of offering the lowest prices and greatest selection on unlocked phones, and this practice has earned them the title of being one of the internet's leading sellers of unlocked phones. It isn't simply diligence that makes a company however, and Cellhut.com owes much of its success to the customers who remain loyal, order after order.

Cellhut.com has decided to offer special savings this Easter to express its gratitude toward these faithful customers and in order to give new clientele the chance to take advantage of Cellhut's typical discount prices. Three phones are featured in this sale and each represent the broad range of selection that Cellhut.com prides itself in carrying.

Nokia's multimedia focused N-series reaches its pinnacle with the N96 model which has all the features a media savvy customer could want. It is available unlocked from Cellhut.com for $1,499.99, an exclusive savings of $550.00. The N96 is a huge advancement from the previous model, the N95. It features the same 5 Megapixel camera and 3G connectivity which won the N95 high praise, but packs twice as much internal memory for a count of 16 Gigs and emphasizes a sleeker design.

Motorola has constantly been on the cutting edge of cellular technology, and the unlocked Z6W available from Cellhut.com for $399.99 proves that they still have got what it takes to beat the competition in terms of offering their customers style and substance in a complete package. One of the best features of the Z6W is the dual compatibility of GSM and WLAN network that truly offers the most freedom to connect to the wireless world, no matter how weak the signal.

Rounding out Cellhut.com's special Easter savings is Samsung's U550 CDMA cell phone available for $189.99. This phone exemplifies simplicity and utilizes only the most necessary features like a 1.3 Megapixel. That doesn't mean however that Samsung ignores the current multimedia streaming technology, because VCAST Video and Music are ready to be used in order to play files directly through the U550.

Only through the Easter holiday, Cellhut.com offers these discounts to show appreciation to its loyal customers and to interest future clientele.
