Europe's leading spam filter is now available for Portuguese speakers in their preferred language.

Copenhagen, Denmark, April 16, 2008 --(PR.com)-- SPAMfighter, Europe's leading spam filter, has released a version of the award winning software in Portuguese. Portuguese speakers can now use a Portuguese website, and download the SPAMfighter client in their preferred language.

“We are very excited to reach out to the Portuguese market and be able to offer them a product in their language of choice.” Commented Henrik Sorensen, co-founder of SPAMfighter.

By offering SPAMfighter in Portuguese, SPAMfighter is hoping to increase the ease of use for Portuguese speakers, making it easier for people around the world to check their e-mail spam free.

SPAMfighter is a community spam filter, filtering spam for over 4.5 million users worldwide. If a SPAMfighter user receives a spam mail, they can report it with one click of a button. Once a spam mail has been reported enough times, it will be filtered for all the other SPAMfighters around the world, making it so most SPAMfighter users never see the spam mail.

SPAMfighter PRO is available for a 30 day trial. SPAMfighter also offers a free version of the award winning spam filter for private users. Both versions can be downloaded here:
