

Mountain Real Estate Community Queens Gap Announces 100 Owner Milestone

Rutherfordton, NC, April 22, 2008 --(PR.com)-- Queens Gap, a North Carolina real estate development located just a short drive from Asheville in the Blue Ridge Mountains, recently achieved a milestone of adding the 100th owner to the membership roster of the gated, private community.

Since its inception in 2006, Queens Gap has been focused on exceeding the expectations of members and their guests through an unparalleled standard of service. The value of this pre-development real estate opportunity has encouraged these owners to make the decision to purchase a home site in the community, despite the current instability in the real estate market. Queens Gap developer Devin McCarthy offers more insight, "In my past business I supplied my products to the finest companies in the world including Titleist, Boeing and General Motors. I am well accustomed to high standards and exceeding expectations."

Owners at Queens Gap are excited about enjoying the plethora of amenities under development in the community, including the Jack Nicklaus Signature Golf Course currently under construction. Says Mr. McCarthy, "We set aside 750 acres in a valley so that Jack could use any portion of that land he sees fit. As one of the Greatest Players and Designers the Game has ever seen I felt he was the right person to help me reach my goal." In addition to world-class golf, Queens Gap offers its owners a staggering array of amenities all within one community. Other planned amenities include a tennis center with six courts, two clubhouses, a Wellness Pavilion featuring spa treatment facilities and an indoor pool, an Outfitter's Lodge for fishing and river activities, and an Equestrian Center for the horse lovers.

Owners are currently enjoying the fantastic weather the community experiences by utilizing the miles of hiking trails. According to Mr. McCarthy, "Keep your eye on Western North Carolina and in time you will see why we chose the thermal belt as our location. It is a rare climate with moderate winters, protected by the mountains to our west."

About Queens Gap - Queens Gap, located on 4,000 acres in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Western North Carolina, offers the ultimate mountain private club lifestyle. Panoramic vistas of unspoiled forests, world-class golfing on a Jack Nicklaus Signature Course, and endless other recreational activities including wellness activities, fishing, hiking, boating, tennis and equestrian and more are all a part of this new private club offered by Devinshire Land Development. Queens Gap is currently offering estate and cottage home sites for sale. For more information about Queens Gap please call 888.388.4640 or visit the website at www.queensgap.com.

About Devinshire Land Development - Devinshire Land Development is a real estate development venture headed by Devin McCarthy. Devinshire was established to develop luxury communities with outstanding services and amenities in world-class locations. The company's first venture, Queens Gap in the Blue Ridge Mountains of North Carolina, is currently building a Jack Nicklaus Signature golf course and other infrastructure and amenities. The community is offering estate and cottage home sites for sale.

###

Contact Information:

Queens Gap
Sarah Burkhart
828.288.4640
sarah@queensgap.com
www.queensgap.com

Online Version of Press Release:

You can read the online version of this press release at: <http://www.pr.com/press-release/81826>

News Image:

