

Inland Empire Auto Repair Review Launches Professional Help Series of Automotive Articles and Archive Aimed at Helping Consumers

Automotive Professionals offer their knowledge and experience to benefit their website visitors on such subjects as fuel economy, tire maintenance, vehicle safety, and many other automotive related subjects. Website visitors are invited to suggest subjects for future articles.

Riverside, CA, April 25, 2008 --(PR.com)-- Laura Durbin President of Inland Empire Auto Repair Review is excited at the opportunity to bring quality automotive repair and maintenance information at no cost to visitors of www.ieautorepairreview.com

Master Certified Technicians, Service Managers, and Auto Repair Shop Owners are interviewed and the resulting articles will be published on the website. An archive sorted by date of articles will also be available for reference.

These articles although covered by copyright, will be available freely to all and may be reproduced and or used in web page content as long as they are not modified and proper credit is given.

Mrs. Durbin was quoted as saying: "We intend to be a one source resource for all things automotive".

The first article in the Professional Help Series is now available on the website.
