Charlotte, NC, April 30, 2008 --(PR.com)-- Say It with Poetry, Incorporated - A Mother's Day Gift She Will Never Forget.

Say It With Poetry, Inc., the world's leading custom poetry service, has launched its new website www.sendherpoetry.com, offering custom romance poetry for all occasions, including Mother's Day.

She's always been there...to cook breakfast (and lunch, and dinner), clean up and care for you. Most husbands would cringe at the pace of an ordinary day for the average wife and mother. She is up early, taking care of the kids, balancing home and career. As Mother's Day approaches many of us still don't have a clue what to get this incredible Mother.

Mothers are increasingly neglected or sent boring, traditional flowers on Mother's Day. "Today, many husbands are away from home on business on Mother's Day," said Gerald Evans. "Many men don't have a clue what to get their wives, and dispersed families don't come together romantically for Mother's Day like they do for other holidays such as Valentine's Day."

Now, give her the much needed break and let her know how much you appreciate everything she does with a romantic poem delivered to her. Say It With Poetry, Inc., the leading online custom poetry service, has put together some romance poetry that will make this Mother's Day memorable and special. You can:

- Hire a professional poet to recite a Mother's Day poem to her in person
- Have a custom poem hand-written in calligraphy on aged parchment paper
- A professional poet can call her directly and recite her Mother's Day poetry
- Have a custom audio poetry postcard sent via email

The site contains audio samples of poetry demonstrating his talents as a poet, in addition to 6 years experience as a professional poet. Visitors to the site can also register for a free guide, "Top #10 Romance Ideas That Men Never Think Of...But Women Would Love." "I want to bring romance back into relationships, especially on Mother's Day," states Mr. Grove, owner, who adds "This is one Mother's Day gift she will never forget."

Say It With Poetry, Inc. is a service business, providing custom romance poetry for her: Wedding, Mother's Day, Valentine's Day, Birthdays, Anniversary, and any other special occasion.
