

"The Horror Vault" Out Now

Independent horror film anthology out on DVD worldwide now

Beverly Hills, CA, May 02, 2008 --(PR.com)-- THE HORROR VAULT which has been in the works for now well over two years is now released. It will be available from the website www.thehorrorvault.net and the film will be shipped from the US.

The film is an anthology and consists of nine small stories, very inspired by the pasts Creepshow, Tales from The Crypt and of course Masters of Horror.

The Horror Vault consists of nine short grueling stories about the cruelty and insanity of mankind. Hopefully you will enjoy, find the dark humor amusing and hopefully make you wonder.

"When John Met Julia" is a modern twist on Romeo and Juliet, except everything goes a bit wrong... for poor John anyway. Written and directed by Kim S nderholm, starring Claire Ross-Brown (Love Me Forever, Pistoleros) as Julia and Kim S nderholm (Craig, Brutal Incasso) as John.

"Delusion" is a black/white 50ies style of horror drama, directed by Mark Machillo, starring Jonaton Trent (Alone with her, Slaughter, Fashion Victim), Heather Tom (The Bold and The Beautiful, The Young and The Restless) and many others.

"Alone" is a story about being all alone in a sorority house on a dark night. Written and directed by Kenny Selko, featuring Mandy Amano (Ghosts of Goldfield, Coyote Ugly), Jerod Edington (Ghost Month, E.R) and Guy Nardulli (Jekyll, House M.D).

"Mental Distortion" is a story about Pete, waking on on his floor, about to do a gruesome find. Directed by Kim S nderholm who also plays Pete, supported by Maja Muhlack (One Hell Of A Christmas, Westbrick Murders) and Barbara Zatler (Craig, Predatory Instinct).

"Dead To The World" has English actor and director Russ Diaper (Deadly Pursuit, The Demon Within) take a stab at the Ted Bundy legend from a new perspective. In supporting roles are Paul Kelleher (Meatcleaver Massacre, Moonlight Murders) and Joyia Fitch (Midsomer Murders, The Last Hangman).

"Disconnected" directed by David Boone and Josh Card is a black and white little threat of the absurd - dark humor and crude and explicit torture mixed in one.

"Echoes" by Gabriel Dowrick, the australian addition about a man, waking up, tied to a bed in what seems to be a nursing home, knowing little of what is going on.

"The Demon" by Thomas Steen Soerensen is the story about a man chased by his own ghosts and desires, which is about to explode as he picks up a young pretty woman hitchhiking at the side of the road, coming seemingly from nowhere. Or is she?

Finally, "Retina" by JP Wenner starring Rachel Grubb and Heather Amos, is a black and white and extremely absurd and nihilistic story about... well - you're the audience - you decide. :-)
