

Moon Costumes Adds School Purchase Order System

Moon Costumes, one of the internet's largest and best known costume suppliers has added a new invoicing system geared towards handling school purchase orders.

Durham, NC, May 07, 2008 --(PR.com)-- Moon Costumes, an online costume retailer, supplies theatrical supplies, makeup, costumes, masks, hats, wigs and other costume accessories to many schools and playhouses throughout the world.

For the last 2 years, handling school purchase orders have been unnecessarily complex - but a big part of the costume business. Moon Costumes has now made it easy to generate an invoice on the website, and then either fax, email or phone in the purchase order information. Order verification happens within hours, not days, and orders for schools that pass credit checks can even be shipped the same day.

"We recognize that our role as an internet retailer is, primarily, to provide a high level of customer service," says CEO Erik Aronesty.

Schools and colleges that are producing plays, or are holding themed parties and other events tend to make many last minute purchases at the end of the year. Moon Costumes specializes in fulfilling these kinds of orders on time.

Originally focusing on a single line of Halloween costumes, Moon Costumes now functions as some manufacturer's only direct retail distribution channel, managing dozens of brands and tens of thousands of listed products.
