London, United Kingdom, June 06, 2008 --(PR.com)-- The 2008 horse racing Classics that mean the most will be run at Epsom on Friday and Saturday as Europe's top horses compete to win the Juddmonte Oaks for fillies and the Epsom Derby for the lads. With competitive fields in both races there should be exceptional betting value, and one of the leading global horse racing handicappers is offering free tips to guide punters back to the cashier's window after the winners return.

RaceHorseOwner.com has rapidly become well known as a global horse racing information portal, and the backbone of the site has been their successful betting previews for major races. Their Dubai World Cup night free picks produced 4 winners including a 50/1 shot and cemented their reputation. They have provided handicapping analysis for both the Oaks and the Derby at Epsom.

The 2008 Epsom Oaks betting preview has been posted on the homepage of the website and not only provides the top selection for the race, but also an overview of the leading candidates to grab the spotlight come Friday.

The big one of course is on Saturday and Epsom Derby betting tips will be highly sought after, provided they come from a decent source, naturally. The winner of this year's race could well prove a bit of a surprise to the uninformed, and RaceHorseOwner expects their selection to go off at very handsome odds indeed.

Whatever the outcome of the races Epsom promises to be the focus for high society in the United Kingdom over the next two days as socialites will be out in force to see and be seen.
