

Janalent Awarded State of Tennessee Active Directory Migration project

Janalent has been notified by the State of Tennessee of their intention to Award Janalent the state's Active Directory migration project.

Las Vegas, NV, July 04, 2008 --(PR.com)-- Today, Janalent announced it has been notified by the State of Tennessee of their intention to award the state's Active Directory migration project to Janalent. Janalent was evaluated favorably over several other significant bidders. This award recognizes Janalent's ever-increasing momentum and success in state, local, and municipality government sector projects.

"We are excited about the opportunity to provide compelling solutions to the State of Tennessee, particularly in these difficult times of contracting budgets and hyper-visibility on spend in the technology sector." said Joseph Honan, Janalent's COO & Vice President. "Our focus on creating innovative solutions using key subject matter experts that have not only well-rounded technical and business consulting skill sets, but also unrivaled expertise with key vendor toolsets such as the Quest Software migration suite of products, allows our team to execute projects affordably with an extremely compelling value proposition..."

As a field-managed Microsoft® Gold Certified Partner, Janalent enables the "collaborative workplace" of tomorrow, providing high value solutions based on our core operating philosophy of "Knowledge, Wisdom and Performance". They combine the highest level subject-matter experts, tools, and proven methodology to successfully deliver best-in-class knowledge management, communication & collaboration, enterprise messaging & directory, secure identity & lifecycle management, and custom software development solutions.
