

Trade Homes Online. It's Free.

www.TradeYourHomeOnline.com is receiving a lot of attention from Sellers and Realtors looking for an alternate to sell their homes.

Jupiter, FL, July 20, 2008 --(PR.com)-- www.TradeYourHomeOnline.com is receiving a huge increase in the number of visitors to the site as well as new listings. While homeowners are having trouble selling their homes, they are also looking "outside the box", and listing their homes(s) for Free. Realtors have also taken notice to promote their clients homes as well as get free exposure.

Why Trade Your home? There are many reasons, but the most important are: Both homeowners are in the same scenario and because of this, most sellers will be more likely to agree on a higher price for the home. There are also a lot of tax benefits to trading your home 10-31 exchanges, etc., (Please contact a Title company, Real Estate Attorney or your Accountant to get specifics), and often times each buyer is more accomodating, and often Home Trades can occur as simultaneous closings.

With the increased traffic and new listings to TradeYourHomeOnline.com it is an great time list your home for Trade. There is absolutely no Obligation and you can list as many homes as you would like for Free, why not be part of the this amazing alternative to selling your home.

With nearly 85% of all home buyers starting their home search on the Internet, it just makes sense to have a site for the sellers to meet.
