

Corp-Corp.com Predicts IT Consulting and Contracting Market to Grow by 4% in 2010

Corp-Corp.com has seen steady growth of IT consulting and contracting jobs in 2009, even when the overall job market was declining.

Ashburn, VA March 09, 2010 --(PR.com)-- The number of jobs posted by the companies that subscribe to the service of www.Corp-Corp.com, reflects a steady growth of the IT Consulting and Contracting Job Market in the United State during the year 2009. Similar trends are seen in January and February 2010. Predictive forecasting using last years and this year's data so far, the IT consulting market is expected to grow by 4% compared to the first quarter of 2009.

· CA, NJ, NY, TX, IL, VA, MA, MN, GA were among the top ten states for contracting and consulting jobs. California led the state in the number of contracting jobs.

· 2009 saw a greater demand for skills like Java, Sys Admin, .NET, SAP and QA. These six skills contributed to 50% of the overall contracting jobs. Similar to the current trend in the first quarter of 2010, Java and Sys admin skills had the strongest demand.

The growth in IT Consulting and Contracting job report is based on jobs posted by random sample of 700 employers. There are over 5000 IT consulting/staffing companies registered with Corp-Corp.com that post over 25000 jobs per month. A detailed dynamic report is available at http://www.corp-corp.com/press-release/Market_Report_2009.htm

About Corp-Corp.com

Corp-Corp.com matches IT consulting job and Consultants in less than 30 seconds online using its proprietary artificial intelligence algorithm "FETCH". Since its inception in 2007, Corp-Corp has helped over 5000 Technology consulting companies to connect with each other.

For more information:

Deepa Sankaralingam; Corp-Corp.com ; deepa@corp-corp.com; (703)-554-7444

###

Contact Information:

Corp-Corp.com

Deepa Sankaralingam

703-554-7444

Contact via Email

www.Corp-Corp.com

Online Version of Press Release:

<https://www.pr.com/press-release/218267>

