Dr. James Eidelman, Telecom Expert Announces the Availability of a New Dissertation on ProQuest

With over 14 years experience in the telecommunications industry, Dr. James Eidelman's dissertation on "Safety Solutions and Differences in Motor Vehicle Drivers Who Use Cellular Telephones" is now available on ProQuest.

Boston, MA,  March 10, 2014 --(PR.com)-- At 261 pages, this dissertation by author Dr. James Andrew Eidelman is targeted to those researching the telecommunications industry, particularly students. "There is no problem left unsolved," says Dr. Eidelman referring to his research. "'Safety Solutions and Differences in Motor Vehicle Drivers Who Use Cellular Telephones' can be useful to university students looking for research on their own dissertation or as a follow-up on how to write a proper dissertation."

"Being in this industry (telecommunications), I wanted to understand and let people know what the downsides are to using telecom devices while driving motor vehicles," said Dr. Eidelman, when asked about the topic of his dissertation. "The safety issues at play are numerous, which my research covers. There is a much higher risk of danger when using telecom devices while driving."

Title: Safety Solutions and Differences in Motor Vehicle Drivers Who Use Cellular Telephones
Author: Dr. James Andrew Eidelman
Pages: 261 pages
UMI number: 3538199
Availability: Now on ProQuest

To order a copy of "Safety Solutions and Differences in Motor Vehicle Drivers Who Use Cellular Telephones" go to this page: bit.ly/1gfbpor

Various versions of this document are available at www.Proquest.com, including PDF (immediate download), Unbound, Softcover, Hardcover, Microfilm, and Microfiche.

About Dr. James Andrew Eidelman
Dr. James Eidelman has held an integral position at Verizon Communications for 14 years. After acquiring his Bachelors of Science and Business Administration from Boston University, he proceeded to get his Masters in Business Administration from the University of Phoenix. And to further his knowledge and expertise in the industry, he then obtained his Doctoral Degree in Organizational Leadership and Information Systems Technology from the University of Phoenix as well.

About ProQuest
ProQuest is committed to empowering researchers and librarians around the world. ProQuest is a key partner for content holders of all types, preserving and enabling access to their rich and varied information. Those partnerships have built a growing content collection that now encompasses 90,000 authoritative sources, 6 billion digital pages and spans six centuries. It includes the world's largest collection of dissertations and theses; 20 million pages and three centuries of global, national, regional and specialty newspapers; more than 450,000 ebooks; rich aggregated collections of the world's most important scholarly journals and periodicals; and unique vaults of digitized historical collections from great libraries and museums, as well as organizations as varied as the Royal Archives, the Associated Press and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.
Contact Information:

James A. Eidelman, DM/IST
617-527-0241
Contact via Email

Online Version of Press Release:
You can read the online version of this press release at: https://www.pr.com/press-release/546733