Romulus, MI March 15, 2018 --(PR.com)-- Free education geared around college readiness will be among the many highlights of the 2018 Summit Academy Family Expo, an annual event that provides education to families and access to services provided by the local community.

All families from any area are invited to attend the event, which will be held from 10 am to 2 pm on Saturday, March 24 at Summit Academy North PEAK in Romulus. The college and financial booths will be open from 11 am to 1 pm.

“The Summit Academy Family Expo gives students the opportunity to interact with ambassadors from more than 20 colleges and universities,” said Leann Hedke, Superintendent of Summit Academy. “By the end of the event, students will have a much clearer sense of which colleges are a good fit for them, and the academic qualifications needed to be considered for admission.”

In addition to the college fair, more than 60 booths manned by charities, clubs and local businesses will be in attendance. There will also be a wide range activities for children, including a face-painting station and photo booth.

Among the biggest draws will be Mad Science and the Ann Arbor-Hands on Museum, which will invite guests to rotate through 12 different Imagination Stations. From Astronomy to Engineering, each interactive station will revolve around a different discipline of science.

With so much to offer, it’s no surprise that more than 1,500 guests attended the 2017 Summit Academy Family Expo. Hedke hopes to exceed that number this year.

“Between the college fair, various booths and entertainment for guests of all ages, there’s truly something for everybody,” said Hedke. “We hope to see even more faces this year as we bring the community together for a day of fun and learning, and show why there’s no substitute for a Summit Academy education.”
