Salt Lake City, UT September 26, 2025 --(PR.com)-- nClouds, an Amazon Web Services (AWS) Premier Tier Services Partner, announced today the acquisition of PREDICTif Solutions, a Houston headquartered AWS consulting partner recognized for its deep expertise in Data & Analytics, AI/ML, and cloud migrations. The acquisition strengthens nClouds' ability to deliver end-to-end cloud transformation - spanning strategy, migration, modernization, managed services, AI and advanced analytics on AWS.

About PREDICTif Solutions

Founded in 2007 and headquartered in Houston, Texas, PREDICTif Solutions is an AWS Premier Tier Services Partner with 9 validated AWS Competency designations including Data & Analytics, Generative AI, Conversational AI and Small Medium Business (SMB). PREDICTif helps customers build modern data platforms on AWS (ingest, store, process, visualize), operationalize AI/ML solutions, and execute complex migrations - delivering secure, governed, and scalable architectures across industries including energy, finance, healthcare, life science, manufacturing, retail, SaaS and telecom. PREDICTif Solutions helps businesses transform data into a strategic asset.

“PREDICTif’s mission has always been to help enterprises become truly data-driven and AI-powered. By joining nClouds, we can scale our Data & Analytics and AI/ML expertise to reach more customers and accelerate value with AWS,” said Jeff Huang, CEO of PREDICTif Solutions. “Together, we’ll empower organizations to activate their data for faster, more insightful decision-making and deliver AI-driven automations that provide a differentiated competitive advantage.”

Customer Value

The combination of nClouds' cloud engineering, SRE/DevOps, security & compliance, FinOps, and managed services with PREDICTif's data engineering, analytics, and AI/ML expertise creates a single, outcomes-focused partner for customers seeking measurable business impact on AWS - from migration through insight and automation. Customers can expect expanded offerings including AWS Migration, Optimization, data lakehouse builds, ML/GenAI automations, and modernization programs with end-to-end compliance and security governance.

“Business leaders need partners who move at the speed of their business,” said Kelly Chamberlain, CEO of nClouds. “PREDICTif’s proven strengths in Data & Analytics and AI/ML perfectly complement our cloud modernization and managed services portfolio. Together, we’ll help customers not just adapt to change, but lead it.”
